

Cookie Policy

How does HOPS use cookies?

HOPS uses cookies for only one purpose:

- Session cookies - these are required for implementing basic features of the site, such as maintaining authentication after users have logged in, and implementing the basket and shop functionality. These are therefore mandatory for using HOPS, and are considered strictly necessary.

How can I opt-out of cookies?

Session cookies are considered strictly necessary to use HOPS. As such, there is no way to opt-out of using session cookies whilst still using the service. The use of cookies for sessions in no way compromises privacy or security.
